IEC Welcomes Northern Nevada IEC as a Provisional Chapter

Arlington, VA – The Independent Electrical Contractors, Inc. (IEC) is pleased to welcome Northern Nevada IEC as its newest provisional chapter. This provisional chapter will be the first one in the state of Nevada and will be located in the state capitol of Carson City.

The five founding Board Members of Northern Nevada IEC are A.M. Smith Electric, Foothill Electric, Jolt Electric, Olectric, and The Happy Outlet. These contractors share a passion for the electrical industry and the merit shop philosophy - a philosophy that promotes the concept of free enterprise, open competition, and economic opportunity for all. They will work together to get everything needed to receive full chapter status.

“This is an exciting time at IEC National as we seek to expand and grow our brand and create new chapters across the United States,” said Walt Czynnik, Vice President of Membership and Chapter Development. “We are looking forward to seeing Northern Nevada IEC grow and anticipate great things from Northern Nevada IEC.”

About Independent Electrical Contractors (IEC)

IEC National is a nonprofit trade association federation with over 50 IEC chapters across the country. IEC represents over 3,300-member businesses throughout the United States and educates over 13,000 electricians and systems professionals each year through world-class training programs. IEC contractor member companies are responsible for over $8.5B in gross revenue annually and are composed of some of the premier firms in the industry.
